The rational of the Conference

The University of the Aegean has been engaged within a process in order to reinforce the research on Insularity and Islands' matters. Within this process the Laboratory of Islands' Development has undertaken several actions as:

- The creation of a Repository on Insularity and Islands.
- The creation of an Atlas for Greek and European Islands
- The creation of an international master on Islands Sustainable Development (IslDev) in collaboration with other European Universities and institutions
- The active participation within the Network of Excellence for Insular Territories (RETI) connecting Insular Universities worldwide
- The organization of the 14th Conference of ISISA on May 2016

The Conference of the 18th and 19th of May 2015 is aiming to:

- Present the progress already achieved concerning the Repository and the Atlas and discuss the use of these tools to support research and education
- Present the project of the international master on Islands Sustainable Development submitted for funding under ERASMUS+ project and discuss with the partner institutions but also with others about its organization and its promotion worldwide
- Prepare the organization of the ISISA Conference by a exchange of ideas on its main topics:
